

Question 1 : What types of products does the company sell, and where are customers located?

Business Insight

- Computers are the top category, generating $19.3M in revenue.
- Home Appliances generated $10.8M.
- The United States has the most customers, with around 5K.
- The UK and Canada each have around 1K customers.
- Revenue per customer is highest in the US ($5.2K), followed by Germany ($4.7K) and Italy ($4.6K).

Recommendation

Maven should continue focusing on its strongest product categories while also looking for high-value markets, not just markets with the most customers.

Question 2 : Are there any seasonal patterns or trends for order volume or revenue?

Business Insight

- February has the highest revenue at $6.3M.
- December has the highest number of orders at 3.5K, followed by February with 3.4K.
- April has the highest AOV at $2,291.83, followed by March at $2,283.

Recommendation

Maven can plan its marketing, promotions, and inventory around these busy periods. For example, it can focus on revenue campaigns in February, order-volume campaigns in December, and higher-value sales around March and April.

Question 3 : How long is the average delivery time, and has it changed over time?

Business Insight

- Average delivery time is 4.53 days.
- Delivery time improved from 7.3 days in 2016 to 3.8 days in 2021.
- It also improved from 4.1 days in 2019 to 4.0 days in 2020 and 3.8 days in 2021.

Recommendation

Maven should continue improving its delivery performance. However, since delivery times were improving even during the revenue decline, delivery does not appear to be the main reason for the fall in revenue.

Question 4 : Is there a difference in AOV for online vs. in-store sales?

Business Insight

- In-Store AOV: approximately $2.1K
- Online AOV: approximately $2.0K

The difference is quite small.

Recommendation

Since customers spend almost the same amount per order in both channels, Maven should focus on getting more customers and orders through the online channel rather than trying only to increase online AOV.
